Appendix 1 - Comparison between the Merging Sub-Fund and the Target Sub-Fund

The following tables show the main differences between the Merging Sub-Fund and the Target Sub-Fund:

Merging Sub-Fund: FCH EDR Financial Bonds	Target Sub-Fund: FCH HSBC Euro High Yield Bond
Investment Objective/Policy
Objective The investment objective of the sub-fund is to outperform the benchmark over the recommended investment period through a portfolio that is invested in bonds issued primarily by international financial institutions. Investments The sub-fund may invest up to 100% of its net assets in bond-type securities issued by international financial institutions. These bonds may be of any type, senior and/or subordinated at any level of subordination, with or without maturity, without any rating restrictions. Investment in non-Investment grade securities is expected to be predominant and may represent up to 100% of the sub-fund's portfolio. In the event that bonds held by the sub-fund are converted into equities, up to 10% of the sub-fund's net assets may be invested in equity securities. The sub-fund may invest up to 100% of its net assets in convertible bonds and Perpetual bonds (excluding Cocos) and up to 50% in Cocos. Cocos will be used in order to benefit from the higher credit premium resulting in an enhanced portfolio carry, as the investment manager believes that the extra spread reflects a complexity premium in addition to pure additional risk and therefore an attractive risk-adjusted profile. While capped at 50% of the NAV, Cocos are likely to constitute a permanent building block of the allocation. Within the allocation to the Coco segment, on top of hedging strategies or a reduced allocation to the Coco segment, risk budget can be modulated by notably (but not restricted to) (i) increasing/ reducing the credit duration of the portfolio and therefore its mark-to-market risk, (ii) increasing/ reducing the underlying credit risk of the issuers in the portfolio, impacting coupon suspension risk and trigger risk, (iii) increasing/reducing the exposure to bonds with higher probability of call (issued at a high spread through the cycle) versus lower probability of call (issued at a low spread through the cycle). Cocos refer to all instruments that have a loss-absorption mechanism (by conversion in to equity, temporary write down of nominal or permanent write-down) triggered by a solvency threshold breach or a point-of-non-viability event (generally at the discretion of supervisors/resolution authority). They include	Objective The investment objective of the sub-fund is to provide long term return by investing in a portfolio of Euro denominated higher yielding bonds Investments The sub-fund invests at least 51% of its net assets in non-Investment grade rated fixed income securities. The sub-fund invests up to 49% in other higher yielding bonds (including but not limited to Investment grade bonds trading with a wide spread and unrated bonds) which are either issued by companies or issued or guaranteed by government, government agencies or supranational bodies in both developed markets and emerging markets. The sub-fund may invest up to 20% of its net assets in emerging markets bonds. The sub-fund may invest up to 60% of its net assets in subordinated bonds without any rating restrictions. These securities are denominated in Euro and up to 10% of the sub-fund's net assets in other developed market currencies. Higher yielding bonds are considered without any rating limitation. The sub-fund may invest in Cocos up to 15% of its net assets and up to 10% of its net assets in other convertible bonds. Cocos will be used in the high-yield investment strategy when the investment manager positively assessed the credit quality in the banking and/or insurance sector and/or believes that the strength of the issuers more than offset the low recovery rate in case of default and the uncertain redemption date. The sub-fund may hold Distressed securities as results of downgrading of securities or any other event beyond the control of the investment manager. If the investment manager considers this to be in the best interest of the shareholders, the sub-fund may participate in the restructuring of the securities, however, the overall sub-fund exposure to Distressed securities will not exceed 10% of its net assets. The sub-fund may invest up to 10% of its net assets in units/shares of UCITS. The sub-fund may invest up to 20% of its net assets in money market instruments and term deposits in order to achieve its investment goals or for treasury purposes. Under unfavourable market conditions, this limit of 20% may be increased if the investment manager considers this to be in the best interest of the shareholders, on a temporary basis and for defensive purposes.

notably (but are not restricted to) most Additional Tier 1 instruments of banks or investment firms and Restricted Tier 1 instruments for insurance companies. The four main structural risk features of a Coco are (i) extension risk whereby the bonds are perpetual subject to call option at the issuer’s discretion, (ii) coupon suspension risk at the issuer’s discretion and/or subject to regulatory intervention, (iii) the trigger risk by the way of write-down or conversion into equity and (iv) the junior subordination risk in case of default. The sub-fund may invest up to 20% of its net assets in bonds issued in emerging markets, including China (through offshore preference stocks convertible into H-shares traded on the Hong-Kong’s exchanges), such bonds issued in emerging markets will be denominated in EUR, GBP, CHF, USD or JPY. The sub-fund may hold Distressed securities as results of downgrading of securities or any other event beyond the control of the investment manager.
